

ANTITRUST STATEMENT

(To be read aloud by Chair / Facilitator at the beginning of any CAADS meeting/gathering.)

It is the policy of the Association for Adult Day Services and its members to comply with laws and regulations applicable to their activities.

Since most association activities, such as this retreat, bring together groups of competitors, there are opportunities for anti-trust violations to occur.

CAADS members and leaders are subject to antitrust laws that prohibit fixing prices, allocating geographic markets, unfair or deceptive practices, setting profit levels; boycotts, and most other anticompetitive actions. For example, two or more people cannot discuss profit levels, selling prices, discounts, or dividing up markets.

CAADS will neither permit nor condone anti-competitive behavior, whether willful or inadvertent, in connection with any CAADS activity.

Conversations involving discussion of matters that may violate applicable laws and regulations should always be avoided, even in private settings, and cannot be tolerated in connection with any CAADS meeting or activity.

Persons engaging in possible violations of CAADS policy during meetings or activities will be required to cease such activities, and if necessary, are subject to ejection by the presiding officer of the meeting.

Questions concerning antitrust or other laws or regulations connected to CAADS activities should be referred immediately to the Executive Director.
